

City Reports Gains in Two Categories

Hometown Development Program Progresses

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has prepared a progress report on the city's participation in the Hometown Development Program, sponsored statewide by the Mississippi Economic Council.

Mrs. Mabel Green, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said today beautification and health and sanitation are the two development categories chosen by the Chamber of Commerce here.

The program began Jan. 1 and will end Dec. 31. In March, 1959, out-of-state judges will hear verbal reports and read prepared outlines of accomplishment. Prizes of $400, $700 and $900 will be awarded to winning cities in each of the three population classifications of less than 10,000. Cities of more than 10,000 population will be eligible for first and second awards of $800 and $700.

Chamber leaders and citizens have been active in the city limits on the US-90 corridor. Missions, 34 young pine trees and 12 pyracanthias have been planted along the highway shoulders.

Twelve business places have been painted and homes of 21 residents have been painted and improved. Several vacant lots and two residential lots have been cleaned. Cleaning of one cemetery has not been completed.

Still in the planning stage is the blacktopping of Beach St. on the 1.8-mile strip between the Bay-Wayland Yacht Club and St. Charles St.

The health and sanitation committee worked in cooperation with the city commission and the Hancock County Hospital Board. The city commission has employed William E. Johnson, Jackson civil engineer, to design a modern sewerage system. Plans have been completed but the council has decided to delay placing before voters a bond issue proposal for financing the waterworks until there is a more favorable bond market.

The anti-rodent campaign, staged in cooperation with the city commission, has been successful since rat poison was made available to residents of the community. There has been no pest infestation of residences or insects this year.

Major drainage problems were corrected by the installation of approximately 200 feet of reinforced concrete culverts and 10 cross-over culverts.

A survey is being prepared under city commission direction.

Winn-Dixie Opens Store On US - 90

The new, modern Winn-Dixie supermarket at US-90 and the Main St. intersection opened today.

The store is the first in the one-stop shopping center planned for the area by the Johnson Realty Co. of New Orleans, pioneer developers of shopping centers in the southeastern states.

Constructed of concrete block with brick facing on the front, the building is 90 by 150, an area of 13,500 square feet. The interior is decorated in modern and varied pastel shades, is air-conditioned, has fluorescent lighting throughout and two-tone asphalt tile on the floor.

Parking for approximately 200 cars is provided on the blacktopped lot in front of the store.

General contractor for the building was Jehle Brothers of Montgomery, Ala. Local firms involved in the construction were W. A. McDonald and Sons, supplier of materials; Dillmann Roofing and Metal Works, roofing; Ted Linam, grading and filling; James Ansley, curbing and cement work; and Bay Ready-Mix, concrete supplier.

Winn-Dixie-Hill, operator of the store, is one of the fastest growing supermarket chains in the United States. Approximately 500 stores are operated by the company in Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and Kentucky. By the end of this year 10 new stores will have been opened in the New Orleans district, of which Bay St. Louis is a part, in an expansion program that is continuing throughout the area served by the company. Most of the new stores have been opened in shopping centers.

Board Visits City Schools, Studies Needs

Members of the board of trustees and Superintendent Joe D. McCullough of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Saturday afternoon visited all schools in the system to study and evaluate existing school facilities.

It was decided at a board meeting Oct. 9 such a visit would help board members gain a more concrete idea of Bay St. Louis' needs in terms of a building program.

Superintendent Joe D. McCullough already has suggested tentatively:

A 16-room white elementary school.

A three-room addition to the colored Valena C. Jones School.

A possible shop addition to Bay High school.

Gulfport architect Charles L.

Proffer has been asked to prepare preliminary plans for the construction, with the understanding he will be hired to design the facilities if the school bond issue is approved by voters. Possible cost of the project has been estimated at $200,000 to $240,000.

Mr. Proffer told board members he had thought tentatively of a 14-classroom elementary building, designed with two wings. Windows would be oriented to the north for the sake of uniform lighting all day. The suggested building also would include a cafeteria, which is a combined auditorium and cafeteria, and a kitchen.

However, Mr. Proffer stressed to board members that he could not begin actual design until they had determined building needs more fully.

Gulf Chevrolet Starts Building Along US - 90

Gulf Chevrolet Co. will be moved from S. Beach St. to a new building under construction on US-90 near the Main St. intersection, Arthur Tipping, owner of the business, said today.

The new service station and paint and body shop will be built by Mr. Tipping on a 400-foot-wide and 500-foot-deep section of land on the north side of the highway.

The building, which will be 90 feet by 140 feet, will accommodate three times as many automobiles as the present one, Mr. Tipping said. He added that completion should be in mid-January.

The Gulfport architectural firm of Kuykendall and Proffer is designing the building. The building and property on S. Beach St. are owned by A. E. Voigt.

State Forest Queen Is Kosciusko Girl

Miss Vicky Love, a blue-eyed blonde from Kosciusko, was named Mississippi Queen of the Forest Friday at Jackson. Miss Mary Martha Martin of Tyler town was chosen first alternate.

One of the six state contestants was Miss Myra Quarterman of Bay St. Louis, who had been named Hancock County and southeast district queen. Also entered were the Misses Jane Pope of Batesville, Margie Swann of Blue Springs and Beth Reall of Lexington.

Hit - Run Vehicle Strikes Boy, 15

A 15-year-old Bay High School seventh grader was struck at 10 p.m. Friday by a hit and run vehicle and knocked 30 feet down the street. The accident occurred on Uman Ave. near the Lorraine Flower Shop.

Investigating officers, City Patrolmen Julius Weber and Leon P. Capdepon, drove the injured youth, August Nicholas Rauxet, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Rauxet Jr. of 116 Booker St., to Hancock County Hospital. He was treated there for a severe concussion, severe bruises of the right leg, facial contusions and shock, and released. He still is being kept in bed at his home.

Davis McCall, 15, of Waveland told police that he and Rauxet were walking from the Bay High School football field to a dance at the Youth Center. The car approached them at high speed he said, and swerved, striking the boy.

McCall told Police Chief Alcine E. Saucier that the car was a 1958, cream colored Ford station wagon. He could not see the license tag but did believe there was one person, the driver, in the car. He also noted that the driver appeared to be female.

Mrs. H. H. Smith of 303 Touline St. said her son, Joe Smith, a freshman at Mississippi Southern College, was a witness to the accident.

Joe Smith, Raymond Strong and Pat Fury, Mrs. Smith says her son reported, were driving at Necaise Ave and Uman Ave. when a brown and tan 1958 Ford sedan with an aerial in the center of the back drove past them.

The three youths turned in the same direction as the Ford, Mrs. Smith said, and saw the car strike the Rauxet boy.

Raymond Strong reported that he and the other two youths with him stopped at the scene of the accident, called police and drove on to the Youth Center where they saw a car which appeared to answer the description of the one which they had seen hit the Rauxet youth.

Joe Smith will be questioned by police after he returns from college Friday, City Commissioner Cyril Glover said. Raymond Strong said he had not been questioned by police.

City Commissioner Glover said police still are unable to determine exactly what type of car was involved. "We are even investigating the possibility that it might have been someone from Long Beach," he said.

Bay High School football team played the Long Beach High School team Friday night here.

GASPAR PIUS MAURIGI

Rites Are Held For Shoemaker, Gaspar Maurigi

Gaspar Pius Maurigi, 80, died at 11:15 a.m. Monday in Hancock County Hospital. He had been in poor health for several years but had been taken to the hospital for treatment early Monday after his condition became worse.

A native of Scudica Scaffani, Italy, Mr. Maurigi came to the United States about 60 years ago and lived in New Orleans for several years before coming to Bay St. Louis in 1908. He was a shoemaker and operated a shoe repair shop until his health forced him to retire.

Mr. Maurigi was one of five charter members of the Italian Society of Bay St. Louis and was president of the organization for 31 years. He was responsible for the erection of the Italian Society museum in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Bay St. Louis residents were invited by Mr. Maurigi on St. Joseph's Day each year to visit the elaborate St. Joseph's altar he erected in his home in memory of his wife. He followed this custom for 27 years until last year when his son, Russell, continued the tradition.

He was the husband of the late Mrs. Caroline (Lena) Frederick. Maurigi, surviving are three sons, Manuel, Gaspar Jr. and Russell of Bay St. Louis; two daughters, Mrs. Nellie C. Rhodes of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. A. C. Oso of Hamilton, Ohio; 12 grandchildren; one great-grandchild and a number of nieces and nephews.

The funeral was at 10:45 a.m. Wednesday from St. Mary's home followed by a requiem mass at 11 a.m. in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery.

DRIVE HEADS--Steven Wilson, senior, and Myrna Strong, junior, both of Bay High School, are chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Bay St. Louis Drive Against Polio drive which will start officially Friday.

They will attend a convention of all Mississippi polio drive chairmen and co-chairmen at Jackson in November. In January the members of the drive will spend a week in the beginning of the Bay St. Louis polio drive, and making for donations. A fund-raising dance will be held. Presently the chairman and co-chairmen are encouraging all students to get their free Salk polio vaccine shots at the City Hall.

Difference in Plat Drawings Slows Public Road Petition

Agreement between two plat drawings slowed consideration of a petition Monday before Hancock County Board of Supervisors. The petition, filed June 1958, requested that a Lakeshore road be added to the Hancock County road system.

A survey drawing by J. Roland West, county engineer, differed from one drawn earlier by J. E. Collins, Mr. West is studying the plat drawings and will report changes in his drawing to the county supervisors' meeting.

The petition is signed by Lambert A. Bordages, Ernest J. Strong, Rena Strong, Mrs. William Strong, Lawrence N. Spence, Mrs. Lawrence N. Spence, Bernard K. Courge and Cornelius White, all of whom own property on the road. It states, in part: "The road above referred to is now and has been for many years maintained by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, although never officially declared a public thoroughfare."

What a Contrast!

The whole idea of communism, the communist leaders say, is to serve and benefit the masses of the people and make their lives fuller and happier. The whole idea of capitalism, these same communist leaders say, is to permit exploitation, and oppression of the masses by a rich and powerful few.

An interesting sidelight on these ancient arguments is found in a chart issued by the National Industrial Conference Board. It shows the working time typical workers must put in to buy commodities in New York as against Moscow. It is revealing.

The New York worker earns enough money in half an hour to buy a pair of nylons for his wife—it takes the Moscow worker 7.2 hours. The New York worker can earn a pair of shoes in just less than 5 hours—in Moscow almost 50 hours are necessary. A suit costs the New York worker 3.3 days of working time—in Moscow the figure is a staggering 36.7 days, more than a solid month.

The same thing is true of food. A pound of sugar costs the American 3.1 minutes—the Russian worker 65.6 minutes. A pound of beef is earned in 22.1 minutes here, as against 91 minutes in the Soviet wonderland. The figures for a pound of butter are 21.9 minutes and 193 minutes, respectively. So it goes, down the list.

It would be well for us all to remember this enormous contrast. And a good time to reflect on it is when we go shopping. For our retail stores are the show windows of the American system of making and distributing things on a competitive, not a state-controlled price basis.

The Tune Changes

Well, the dear, confused people who have been screaming about our soft policy in dealing with the reds are singing out of the other side of their loud mouths now without the brain-power to put their feeble thoughts into orbit. Now they are saying John Foster Dulles is too tough—that he ought to let the Reds take that off-shore islands along with Chasing's 100,000 troops if that's what the Reds want. If they think that will mean peace, all they got to do is remember Munich. You can't satisfy a blackmailer. Give 'em those two pesky little islands, and next they'll take Formosa; then the Philippines, and our power in the Pacific that was won by the blood and sweat of the men of 1941-45 will be lost at the bargaining table. The Congress gave the President the power to act according to his judgment in the Far East, and never has rescinded its action. Let's hope like doesn't let party politics bring on a case of spinal curvature at this stage of the game. When Sen. Wayne Morse gets to wailing against any cause, it's pretty likely to be a good cause.

A Little of This and That

In the view of Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark): "We are treating luxuries as necessities and necessities as luxuries...We have got to return to a reasonable sense of what is really important, as distinguished from what is merely desirable...The problem is larger than what has gone wrong with our policies. Even more fundamental, it is what has gone wrong with our society."

From Farm Journal: "A few steps from our office there stands in Washington Square a monument to the unknown soldier dead of the American Revolution. We here who pass by daily often wish that you and all Americans might see, engraved deep in the stone behind a bronze statue of George Washington, these dozen words: 'Freedom is a light for which many men have died in darkness.'"

Sacred Orders Set For Four Fraters

Court's Usurpation of Power Is Real Issue in School Dispute

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
Author, Lecturer, Radio Commentator

A lot of bad jokes have been going the rounds on the school segregation dispute. Aside from the fact that this is hardly a joking matter, it does indicate how mixed up an issue like this can become. We read about court injunctions, court orders, new state laws, opening and closing of schools here and there, and so on, interspersed with all this are appeals to our feelings. We are asked to feel sorry for the Negro children, or the white children, or the children generally who may be deprived of an education by those who defy the Supreme Court's decree in the school cases.

Now first of all, whether a public school is segregated or integrated, no child is being deprived of an education. In States with segregation laws on their books, it means simply that the races go to separate schools. It does not mean that the children of one race go to school and the others do not. I stress this point because one national news magazine several weeks ago reached a new low in this debate. It printed a statement and a picture of a youngster declaring, "Negroes have a right to attend a school." That was that — no further comment — thus leaving the impression that there were places in America where Negroes could not go to school.

However, there is a great and overpowering issue involved in this dispute. The real issue goes to the very root of our form of government.

It might be well to re-state, in very broad terms, the essentials of the American form of constitutional government. Under our Constitution, certain very limited powers are granted to the federal government. Certain other—and more numerous—powers are granted to the sovereign states. Still other powers remain strictly with the people—powers which cannot legally be exercised by the federal government until the people themselves, by constitutional amendment, release them to the federal authorities.

This is the system which guaranteed that we would remain a nation of free men. The alternative to this system is an all-powerful central government on the European model, which assumes the right to put its hand into any and every phase of our lives. Now the great, fundamental issue in the so-called school segregation cases is the choice between these two systems of government.

Nowhere in the Constitution of the United States is any power over our local public schools given to the federal government. Public education—which means locally supported and managed schools—has traditionally and constitutionally always been the concern of the states and local communities. The Constitution does not so much as mention the word "education" or "schools." The framers of our system of government left this important power strictly with the states because they realized that a central government which could exercise power over the minds of children would have in its hands a terrifying weapon of tyranny.

But in its decisions on the school cases, the packed Supreme Court simply usurped this power for the federal government. In the bargain, the court also usurped the power of Congress—the only federal body which has the right to pass laws—and "legislated" on the schools. Congress has never passed a law declaring that segregation of the races in the public schools is illegal.

Of course, the argument is made that under the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, the people did actually delegate to the federal government the right to rule on this issue. The amendment guarantees to every American, regardless of race, creed or color, the right to equal protection of the laws. But every Supreme Court—until the advent of the Warren Court—ruled that so long as a state provided separate but equal educational facilities for the races, it was fulfilling the intent of the 14th Amendment. And the Congress and the 37 states which adopted the 14th Amendment were clear that it did not apply to education. In fact, the very Congress which passed the 14th Amendment, also passed a law providing for segregated schools in the District of Columbia—the only educational system over which it had power.

The only legal and constitutional way in which the federal government can be given power over our educational systems is by constitutional amendment. The amendment is by three-fourths of the states. That would be the legal way. But the packed Supreme Court has chosen the illegal way — and usurped this power from the people, the Congress and the states. That is the real issue in this sad and troublesome dispute.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

Stylish, powerful and priced for today's driving! There never was a Ford like this before! Its classic new design was awarded the Gold Medal of the Comité Français de l'Élégance at the Brussels World's Fair! With new Thunderbird flavor in each lively line and tastefully new interiors, these 59 Fords are beautifully proportioned for elegant driving.

Power, performance and economy are served up in new proportions, too. All standard Ford engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—drive on regular gasoline at regular prices. You save up to 5 cents on each gallon! There's a new aluminum master that normally will last twice as long as conventional masters used on other cars. And low oil filtration that lets you change oil at 4000 miles instead of the 1900 often recommended... new Tyrex cord tires for greater economy and safety... a brilliant new Diamond Lustre Baked Enamel Finish that's so durable you won't have to wax it ever... and two new economy power-transmission teams that will bring you savings automatically. That's why we say, for '59, Ford is truly a masterpiece of underpricing!

NEW economy team Number One! Get all the high performance of a completely new Fordomatic Drive teamed with a Six or Thunderbird V-8—at a price that puts automatic driving within everyone's car budget. It's a simplified Fordomatic with nearly 1/2 fewer parts. NEW economy team Number Two! Take Ford's versatile new Cruise-O-Matic Drive, add the responsiveness of Thunderbird Special V-8 power and you have the last word in automatic driving plus the "built-in" oversize savings of an economy geared axle.

Altogether NEW in everything you can see, feel or imagine!

Tribute to Pope Pius XII Written by Father Mercier

By the REV. ADRIAN MERCIER

To peace-loving people the world over the death of Eugenio Pacelli was a shock. The life of Pope Pius XII, dedicated to world peace and the great ideal of harmony between nations, brought him love and respect from every nation. And now the world listens with a deep sense of loss to the tolling of bells reminding us of his recent death.

Eugenio was born March 2, 1876, in Palazzo Pediconi, Rome. From his earliest years he was a prodigious student. Reticent by nature, he nevertheless was a clear and determined thinker, defending effectively what he held to be right.

At the beginning of his studies for the priesthood his health began to fail and he was granted by Pope Leo XIII the rare dispensation of attending the seminary as a day-scholar. Under the watchful care of his devoted mother he was able to persevere under the heavy burden of seminary studies.

On the afternoon of his graduation from theology he was called to the private rooms of Leo XIII and was cordially congratulated by the Pontiff for his exceptional scholastic achievements. Easter Sunday, 1899, he celebrated his first mass in the Borghese Chapel of St. Mary Major. In his post-graduate work he received doctorates in philosophy, theology and canon law.

Two years after his ordination he was called by Cardinal Rampolla to the Congregation of Ecclesiastical Affairs—that most important branch of the papal foreign office. Father Pacelli already had acquired a mastery of the German, French and English languages. For a while he taught ecclesiastical diplomacy in the Papal Academy.

Four years after his ordination he was elevated to the monsignorate. In 1917 Benedict XV elevated him to the episcopacy and named him nuncio to Germany. In 1930 Cardinal Pacelli was named papal secretary of state to succeed Cardinal Gaspari.

As cardinal, Eugenio Pacelli became a favorite around Rome. Robed in gorgeous vestments he was every inch a prelate. In celebrating mass he was a simple priest—his face always betraying profound personal awareness of his own unworthiness at the intermediary at the altar between God and man.

During his years as secretary of state Cardinal Pacelli traveled to many parts of the world. He had by this time become fluent in eight languages. He was an accomplished orator giving every sermon the careful preparation of an artist. In 1936 he visited the United States. On his tour he ascended to the 102nd floor of the Empire State Building to visit with Al Smith. He toured New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Notre Dame University, Chicago, St. Paul, San Francisco, Kansas City, Cincinnati and Niagara Falls. He never seemed to tire of traveling. One of his first comments after being elected to the papacy was that he would miss the enjoyment of traveling.

Eugenio Pacelli was crowned Pope in March, 1939. His tall, frail frame, his collected countenance, his wonderful eyes, his grace of movement, his perfect poise, all made him a tremendous figure on the throne of Peter. He fully realized how quickly the glory of this world passes but he also realized that all his talents would have to be dedicated to the humble service of the king whose vicar he had become. He was always that rarest of combinations: a mystic, a man of prayer, at the same time a practical man of action. As someone aptly described him once, he is an El Greco portrait come to life.

And so Eugenio Pacelli reigned as Pope Pius XII through 19 years of social, economic and political upheaval on a scale vaster than the world ever before had witnessed. After his election to the papacy he selected as his coat-of-arms a dove holding an olive branch in its beak, with the words "Opus Justitiae Pax", the work of justice is peace. He will be honored in history as the Pope of Peace—a goal toward which he worked unceasingly. Only history will reveal how successful his dedicated efforts toward world peace have been.

Now Pope Pius XII, consigned to history, will live on in the minds and hearts of those who have been reached by his influence the world over.

Storing Power Mowers

If you want your gas engine to operate properly next spring, it should be conditioned for storage now.

An operator's manual contains suggestions for storage. If you do not have an operator's manual, these suggestions might help.

Clean all dirt and dry grass from engine and housing.

While engine is warm, replace oil and in accordance with new oil of recommended grade and viscosity.

Drain fuel from tank and carburetor.

ALL MAKES OF SEWING MACHINES REPAIRED.

HO 7-6216

hermit. It then, is left in contact for a long period of time, gum may form and cause trouble next spring.

Remove sparkplug and pour, or squirt from eye, about two tablespoons of engine oil into the combustion chamber. Then pull the starter a time or two.

Put machine oil on all moving parts of the fuel system, including the springs.

Sharpen blade so that it will be ready for action next spring.

If repairs are needed, take the lawnmower to a reputable repair shop and have it repaired and conditioned for storage.

Power Post Beetles

Power post beetles are so named only to terrify us. They are not dangerous to man or dog.

attack the exposed and unprotected portions of buildings, such as eaves, chimneys, and gutters, and they will attack pine and other woods.

The surface of wood infested with power post beetles is perforated with numbers of small "shot holes," each the size of a pinhead or larger. Any slight jarring of the wood causes a fine stream of powder to fall from these holes. When infested timbers are cut or broken, the insects may have been converted into a mass of this finely powdered wood held together by a thin outer shell and a few intervening fibers have observed. Many homeowners have observed, when removing floors, the piles of sawdust on the surface of the floors caused by this pest.

The adults are small beetles, the more common species being reddish brown to nearly black in color. Their eggs hatch into tiny curved grubs which burrow into the wood.

Parts of Buildings Attacked - Power post beetles may be introduced with building materials. But all infestations are started in this manner, since the adult beetles constitute a potential threat to any wood to which they have access. The parts of buildings most frequently damaged are joists, sub-flooring, hardwood flooring, sills, plates and interior trim.

Control Measures - Power post beetles may be controlled by spraying infested wood with 5 per cent pentachlorophenol or with 5 per cent DDT in oil or with 1 per cent lindane in oil.
